

Who is Atlas?

Atlas Communications Technology is a leading global provider of high-quality, mission-critical unified communications services.

With over seventeen years of deep domain expertise originating in Trader Voice and the financial sector, Atlas delivers real-time, intelligent, next generation services to a full roster of Fortune 500 companies.

Headquartered in the Tri-State area with over 400 employees in cities worldwide, Atlas has the experience to assess, recommend, and transform your organization's unified communications system into an integrated and secure world class communications solution. Atlas has been the leader in the implementation of SBC technology since 2006, and monitors and manages unified communications systems across the globe for companies of all sizes.

Atlas' three lines of business—Atlas Consulting Services, Atlas Cloud Services, and Atlas Managed Services—meet all your unified communications needs, from assessment and design to implementation and management.

Consulting Services

Atlas' consulting and assessment services provides a wide range of expertise in the field of unified communications, taking your organization from assessment and planning through to deployment of a world-class unified communications solution.

Enterprise Consulting

Unified Communications
Deployment Services

Custom Application
Development

---

Cloud Services

Atlas' full slate of OpEx, cloud-based services brings you the power of IP-based unified communications with a simple monthly plan.

UC as a Service

SIP Trunking
as a Service

Toll Fraud Detection and Prevention as a Service

Managed Services

Let Atlas' experts protect your enterprise with a managed services solution that provides reliability, redundancy, and ensures quality of service.

Monitoring and Management

Security Event and Threat Management

Performance, Security and Compliance Analytics

---

Atlas leverages the best available to assess, plan, architect, design, build and support communications ecosystems that align with your business priorities. Contact us today to see how Atlas can service your unified communications needs.